Portland, May 31st, 1867 GEORGE WILLIAMS je1d1ptf

"Injun" or "Nigger"

Many years ago there lived a young man who took it into his head, that like John Randolph he was of Indian descent, though unlike John he did not know exactly the tribe to which his forefathers belonged The idea was a perfect monomania with him, notwithstanding the efforts made by his friends to convince him of the folly of his pretensions to say nothing of the absurdity of them, even if they could be established The favorite notion however could not be eradicated from his mind, and he promised his friends that he would one day convince them that he was right

Having heard that a deputation of Indians was at Washington on a visit to their Great Father the President he promptly repaired to that city and arranged with the gentleman having them in charge His friends in the city were surprised to receive an invitation to accompany him on a visit to the red men before whom he proposed to verify his pretensions The party met, as requested and found the Indians sitting on the floor smoking their pipes, and manifesting but little appreciation of the honor of the visit

Having arranged his friends at a respectful distance from the aged chief, who still regarded the visitors with stolid indifference, the young man stepped boldly from the center, and presuming that it would require some show of energy to arouse the chief from his apparent apathy, he placed his hands on his breast and said with great fearlessness "Me Indian—long time ago!"

Without moving a muscle of his face, the old chief slowly rose from his sitting posture, turned his eagle eye on the speaker His friend says the chief evidently understood, or appeared to understand, the meaning of the speech, and they gazed intently on the solemn proceedings The young man bore the searching glance of the Indian warrior without emotion All felt that the moment had come

Moving sufficiently close to the speaker, the chief raised his hand and carefully taking a lock of the man's hair between his finger and thumb, gently rubbed it a moment All stood in silent expectation Quietly withdrawing his hand the chief uttered the slight peculiar Indian grunt, and said, "Nigger!"

The altogether unexpected denouement ended the interview, and the discomfited descendant of the Tomahawks retired with his friends, the latter roaring with laughter and the former with the most sovereign contempt for his degenerate relations

A NEW LION KILLER —The journals of Algeria speak of a young Frenchman named Betonlie, employed in the topographical service, who bids fair to rival the fame of Jules Gerard Being lately in the service of Soukabras, he was informed that a lion had carried off an ox the preceding night In consequence, he prepared his arms, and took up a position in the dusk behind a thicket, at about fifteen yards from the remains of the ox At about two o'clock in the morning, the lion appeared and recommenced its repast, when the sportsman took the opportunity to discharge two sperical balls into his body The animal fell without a sound, but immediately rose and staggering along for some distance, again dropped down dead It measured nearly nine feet and was supposed to be about twelve years old A few days later, M Betonlie went on another expedition in the same locality, having learned that a lioness and two lions were committing great ravages every night Having entered the forest which the animals frequented, he fastened an old mare to a tree as bait, and then posted himself behind some thick bushes He had not been in the thicket long before a noise was heard, and a magnificent lion made its appearance, advancing with precaution, and passing within a few feet of the marksman, who was unable to take aim at the moment from his rifle being entangled in the brushwood The animal then made a circuit around the mare, licked its lips, and crouched down for the fatal spring, when the sportsman, from a distance of about forty yards, fired and lodged two balls in his right side The animal gave a terrific roar, and plunging into the forest, disappeared. The next day its dead body was found at 500 yards from the place of ambuscade

A CURIOUS STORY —The Bank of England possesses some singular traditions and experiences We heard the other day an anecdote from an authentic source, although it related to something that happened many years ago, before the lifetime of the present generation The directors received an anonymous letter, stating that the writer had the means of access to their bullion-room They treated the thing as a hoax, and took no notice of the letter Another more urgent and special letter failed to rouse them At length the writer offered to meet them in the bullion room at any hour they pleased to mention They then communicated with their correspondent through the channel he had indicated, appointed some "dark and midnight hour" for the rendezvous A deputation from the board, lantern in hand, repaired to the bullion room, locked themselves in, and awaited the arrival of the mysterious correspondent Punctual to the hour a noise was heard below Some boards in the floor were, without much trouble, displaced, and in a few minutes, the Guy Fawkes of the Bank stood in the midst of the astonished directors! His story was simple and straightforward An old drain ran under the bullion room, the existence of which had been known to him, and by means of which he might have carried away enormous sums Inquiry was made Nothing had been abstracted, and the directors rewarded the honesty and ingenuity of their anonymous correspondent—a working man, who had been employed in repairing the sewers—by a present of eight hundred pounds.

A MEXICAN RAILROAD —The Journal of Mining gives the following brief account of the Mexico and Vera Cruz Railroad

An interesting fact about this road is that it is to climb from the sea level to an elevation of 8 400 feet within a distance of 125 miles—Vera Cruz is 182 miles from Mexico Much of the way the gradient is 1 foot in 25, and there are frequently abrupt curves The Caledonia road in Great Britain, reaches an elevation of about 1,080 feet, our own Baltimore and Ohio road attains its highest point at 2 626 feet, and the Mont Cenis road can go no higher than 6,815. It should be added that no one of these roads starts from sea level Two hundred miles of the Vera Cruz road have been finished—one hundred on each end of the route These completed parts have proven very useful in the military operations The whole road is graded and the European capitalists who own it are now waiting for the settlement of the country to lay the remainder of the rails and open a new line to the public

SINGULAR REVELATION ABOUT NAPOLEON —The following paragraph under the title of "A Revelation," appears in the Union Bist une

"Now that the Czar has certainly taken his departure, we may mention a circumstance as yet unknown, and which the Emperor Napoleon from motives of delicacy was anxious to keep secret One of the projectiles of the pistol fired in the Bois de Boulogne struck the Emperor of the French but in place of penetrating, the lead only effected a severe contusion in the vicinity of the heart His Majesty would not allow the Czar while in France, to learn that the shot intended to strike him had more directly menaced another breast That decision imposed on the press a reserve which was faithfully attended to, but which at present, that the Czar is gone, is no longer necessary"

Those who see the wound may believe the story

THE HAWAIIAN SUCCESSION —Probably the Islands are not yet ripe for their manifest destiny, and will on the demise of the present ruler, still remain in the hands of a native dynasty

It has long been known to those intimately acquainted with Hawaiian affairs, that both the present king and his late royal brother were violently opposed to all measures looking toward ultimate annexation to the United States This prejudice can be accounted for by certain events which transpired during the tutelage of the then young Princes The king, doubtless will name a successor, whose sentiments are in accordance with his own Lunalilo, the designated heir will have less personal feeling than the present king

Should Mrs Bishop be appointed, whose claims by birth to the crown are equal to the best, she will be found a true friend to American interests, as well as a patriotic ruler.—The Pacific.

AFTER INDIANS —The Eugene Journal has the following

Occasionally the agents and men from the reservation in scouring the country for their stray people run across adventures both novel and interesting A party of men were here from Yaquina lately and secured a number of Indians belonging to their section They were told that a few bucks and squaws were in the woods just below town and one white man with two Indians started to hunt them up Arriving at a convenient place to check the runaways should they attempt to make the other side of the city, the white man stopped and sent his decoys out to capture the braves and their female companions of the forest In a short time one of the Indians came riding back, at full speed, bringing a basket and other "traps," showing if he had not caught the game he had relieved them of their luggage His account was, that he had caught sight of two squaws, and gave chase but they outran him in the woods, though compelled to abandon their basket and several articles of clothing After hearing his report the white man and Indian started for the scene of the chase They had not gone far when they were met by two lovely young ladies and a big double fisted protector, all bearing evident signs of excitement and ill concealed rage As soon as the young ladies saw the Indian they exclaimed, "There he is, that's the fellow that chased us!" The guardian of the ladies no sooner heard this than he squared himself for the fray, and would have upset the Indian had not the "white captain" called for an explanation of the reason his army was so unceremoniously attacked The girls stepped forward, and said as they were in the woods gathering berries they saw the Indian coming toward them and dropped their basket, etc, and ran for dear life. The explanations proving mutually satisfactory and all concluding that no harm was intended, the Indian was ordered to give up his trophies, which he did in usual Indian style He handed over the basket, and proceeded very deliberately to unfasten from the back of his saddle the clothing which he had taken at the same time Instead of rolling it into a bundle and handing it to the ladies, the fellow took each individual garment and held it up to the gaze of all present Before the spectators there were many disputes about the ownership of the clothes, each one averring that they belonged to the other! Finally they concluded that the clothes must belong to one of the neighbors, they would take them along and see! The parties separated in the best of spirits, the one not sorry they went after Indians, the other pleased that they went bathing and after berries

THE NEXT CENSUS —The Bureau of Statistics is making preparations to take the census of 1870 through the internal revenue organization. Director Delmar has been superintending a series of statistical exercise drills, the results of one of which affords a remarkable proof of the thorough organization of the various bureaus of the Treasury Department He has actually taken a census of the entire population of the country already and that without any expense whatever, except some $50 for stationery The census was quietly but thoroughly taken during the six weeks of last November and December, and is in most cases the result of actual count in over 3,500 internal revenue divisions The details will not be furnished to the public until after they have undergone careful revision and arrangement. The returns from a few of the remote mountain districts of the county are the only ones not deemed satisfactory

When it is remembered that the census of 1860 cost two million dollars and required two years in which to announce its result, the quick and economical accomplishment of this vast undertaking is not a little remarkable,

The present census shows the total population of the thirty seven States in November and December last to have been 34,100,255, and of the States and Territories taken altogether, 34,505,882 In a majority of the Southern States there has been a decrement of population, in the Eastern States a small increase, and in the Western States a large increase. The results are supported in every instance by the State census of 1865, so far as taken

The comparison with the census of 1860 is as follows Thirty seven States a few of which were then Territories, numbered 31,218,021, inhabitants, and the total States and Territories 31,443,321 The total increment since 1860 has therefore been 3 062,561, which, in view of the late extended conflict, demonstrates the extraordinary recuperative powers of the country

The population of the District of Columbia is given at 118 307 The proportion of the sexes in the District has not yet been definitely settled, but, so far as has been ascertained, there is a majority of several thousand females over males.—Chronicle.

A SAD STORY —The Watertown Reformer gives the details of a sad chapter in the recent disaster on Lake Ontario Among the passengers of the steamer Wes co sin, burned near Cape Vincent, was a Mr. Chisholm, from Canada, on his way to Missouri in company with his wife and six children He was a man about 55 years old, had bought a farm in the State to which he was traveling and was moving with his family and goods When the fire broke out he was sitting on deck, but his wife and children had retired for the night He called them up hurriedly and sought to save their lives in a most unfortunate way One of the small boats was let down to about a foot of the water, and about twenty passengers leaped into it, and Mr. Chisholm assisted his wife, three daughters and a son to get in One of the frightened crowd cut with a knife the rope which connected the bow of the small boat with the davit, and the loosened end dropped down like a spoon, and at once filled with water The passengers were thrown out and nearly all drowned This happened not more than a minute and a half before the steamer struck the shore on the Grenadier Island, and had all remained on board as the captain ordered, not a life would have been lost Mrs Chisholm, the three daughters, aged respectively 20, 17 and 15, and the boy of 11 years, were all drowned The father and the two elder sons, who stuck to the steamer, were saved Mr Chisholm had $4,000 in greenbacks, his only fortune, which was in his wife's satchel and was destroyed by the flames Thus he was left in a strange land, a widower, bereft of four children without money or property, with this great grief resting upon his soul to commence the world anew The bodies of his wife and children have been recovered, and were interred in the graveyard at Cape Vincent, and the sad, brokenhearted husband and father, with his two remaining sons, will go on to his homeless home in the West Few life dreams have sadder chapters than this

THE MAYOR OF UTICA ON TOBACCO CHEWING The following proclamation of the Mayor of Utica, is published in the papers of that city It speaks for itself.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Utica, June 26, 1867

It has been represented to me by various persons, that it is nearly impossible for ladies to walk in the evening on Genessee street, without finding on their arrival home that their dresses are spotted and besmeared by filth ejected from the foul mouth of some one who uses tobacco. How any one having the slightest sense of decency, far less propriety, can do such a disreputable and dishonorable act, passes the comprehension of every right thinking person The practice must be stopped, and it is hoped that the police will be instructed to be vigilant in relation to this matter, so that the perpetrators of this nasty practice may be apprehended and summarily and severely punished for their reprehensible conduct

FREDERICK THE GREAT'S DREAM OF NAPOLEON —Frederick was at Breslau On the morning of the 16th of August 1769, on waking, he thus addressed one of his aides de camp

Can you explain a dream by which I am much preoccupied? I saw the star of my kingdom and genius shining luminously and resplendent in the heavens I was admiring its splendor and pride, when there appeared above mine another star which eclipsed it, plunging down upon it. There was a struggle I saw their rays for an instant mingle together and my star, obscured, enveloped by the orbit of the other, descended to the earth, as if weighed down by a force which seemed about to extinguish and annihilate it The struggle was long and obstinate At last my star disengaged itself, but with much difficulty It regained its place and continued to shine in the firmament, while the other faded away."—Batjen's History of Napoleon the First.

TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 20, 1867.

The Suffrage.

Everybody but the Democratic Bourbons recognizes the fact that all questions as to universal suffrage in this country are ended. That principle is an established fact. Its opponents have discounted the last vote that can be got by charging the Republicans with negro equality. For the last ten years the party of freedom has rested under this charge without realizing any of the advantages which would naturally accrue to it from becoming the champion of equal political rights. But as the march of events has brought the question into its present shape, nothing can be gained hereafter by the action of the opposition in appealing to the old prejudices which have heretofore served their purpose so well.

But those who oppose equality of political rights did not always stand on the ground they now occupy. They were once the professed champions of the idea they now condemn. At the time of the adoption of the Constitution foreign-born persons were under political disabilities in all or nearly all the States. No person of this class could vote without a special legislative act, and a property qualification was, even then, required. In a few years the immigration to this country began to increase very rapidly. The Federal party, then in power, thought it would be dangerous to allow so many foreigners to vote until they had been in the country for a considerable time, and accordingly passed naturalization laws requiring a much longer residence than is required now. This was a political mistake of the Federal party, though that party doubtless acted for what it considered the best interests of the country. Against this measure the rising Democratic party made a great outcry. Under the lead of Jefferson it put itself on the ground of extending the suffrage. It claimed to be the liberal party, and denounced its opponents as "monarchists." In several of the States the property qualification greatly limited the suffrage, and the Democratic party put itself on the broad ground of making suffrage universal by removing these restrictions. Nor did it make any exceptions against negroes,—that is to say, free negroes, for, of course slaves could have no political or other rights. The Federal party was in favor of proceeding more slowly and, as it thought, more safely; and unfortunately its position was such that it had to bear the odium of a supposed hostility to popular rights. Hence the Democratic party gained an easy and overwhelming triumph, and grew strong by its professed attachment to the principle of political equality. But after a time it became attached to the slave interest and reversed its policy. Bidding for the support of the slaveholders it began to disfranchise free negroes in the States where, in the days of Jefferson and Monroe, the right of this class of persons to vote was never doubted. The revolution in its policy became complete. It took a position directly in antagonism with its old ideas, and soon began to berate its opponents for their alleged attachment to a principle which was the watchword by which itself was created. In this course it has continued to the present time. Once the champion of universal suffrage, it now stands solely on its opposition to that principle. It triumphed and grew strong under the inspiration of this idea in the earlier stage of its existence as a party, but now it squarely sets itself against the doctrine it formerly professed. The idea of universal suffrage was held invincible in early Democratic times, and who shall say it will be less powerful now?

Outcroppings.

The Democratic Review, with an appearance of frankness but with actual disingenuousness says that it is "not prepared to say what the Democracy would do with the national debt." That is, it is not prepared to say whether its party would repudiate it or not. This was the view the Umatilla Convention took of the subject. They all know that their party would repudiate it if it had the power; but they are "not prepared" just yet to say so, lest the declaration might militate very seriously against their efforts to obtain the ascendency. No well informed person believes that the national debt would be secure for an hour if that party should obtain control of the Government. Some of their organs openly demand repudiation, others put it in the form that the debt shall be repudiated or the Government securities subjected to taxation. There is manifestly a growing belief among the leaders of that party in favor of undisguised repudiation. In all their journals an unmistakable undertone in support of this most dishonorable proceeding may be easily detected. Numbers of them, like the Review, are "not prepared" to speak out for it at this time, believing it to be the better policy not to let their real views on this subject be known. But let them once succeed in their efforts to acquire power, and they would be prepared immediately "to say what the Democracy would do with the debt." As regards the taxation of Government securities, that point, as we have already repeatedly shown, is settled by decisions of the Supreme Court, running through a period of thirty or forty years. According to these decisions, the recent law of Congress exempting bonds from State taxation was not at all necessary, as under the Constitution no State or corporation has the right to tax them under any circumstances. Before they can be taxed the Constitution must therefore be changed, or the numerous decisions of our highest tribunals, extending through a long series of years, must be reversed. The clamor of the Copperheads, in the face of the facts, for "taxation or repudiation," shows that they greatly prefer the latter to the former. For the former is clearly impossible, and their object of putting it in this alternative is to give a gloss to their shameful scheme of repudiation.

An Exact Definition.

The other day the Herald was led by its inconsiderate zeal against a political opponent to make the following declaration:

> The man who would advise or encourage resistance to the civil authorities for the purpose of defeating the popular will as expressed by the ballot, and thus bring about a collision which may perhaps end in blood-shed, are as vile traitors to the government as ever paid the penalties of their crimes upon the scaffold or the block.

We like that sentiment. It suits our views exactly. But it directly contradicts nine-tenths of the editorial articles which have appeared for a year in the paper from which it is extracted. In 1860 the popular will was expressed by the ballot in the election of Abraham Lincoln. A large party advised resistance for the purpose of defeating this expression of the popular will, and among those who gave encouragement to the scheme were large numbers of Northern Democrats. A "collision which resulted in bloodshed" was the result. Those who opposed this lawless scheme pronounced, and still pronounce, its authors to be "as vile traitors to the government as ever paid the penalties of their crimes upon the scaffold or the block." But the Herald, which sees treason in a contest for a petty office, could see no treason in this attempt to defeat the popular will of the nation as expressed by the ballot, and now steadfastly denies that they were traitors who brought about this collision which resulted in shedding a sea of blood. Those who are acquainted with the profound arguments which that paper has been accustomed to employ to prove that the Southern insurgents committed no treason, will be able to fully appreciate the consistency of the above extract with these positions. The extract exactly covers the whole case of the Southern rebellion.

At a late Union meeting at Chico, California, Bidwell introduced Gorham to the audience and proposed three cheers for him as the future Governor of California.

We have received a letter from Monticello W. T., severely censuring some remarks in regard to the Asylum at that place which appeared in our Olympia correspondence a short time since. The letter is too personal to be admitted in our columns, and we can scarcely believe that the writer himself would, on second thoughts, desire to see it in print. But we cheerfully give the writer the benefit of his statements in regard to the management of the Asylum. He says that "Dr. Ostrander has had charge of the medical department, and he is considered a competent physician; that the inmates have been as well fed and clothed as a majority of the laboring classes in the country; that there has been no intentional or known wrong committed, and that proof of these facts will be laid before the public at no distant day."

STATE ITEMS.

A telegram from Eugene City dated the 19th, give the following: Thos Briskill was found dead yesterday morning, supposed to have been killed by the accidental discharge of his gun.

A man living in Siuslaw precinct, attempted, last Wednesday, to commit suicide. He stretched himself up with a clothes line, but his wife cut him down before he respiration ceased, and he was restored with little trouble. A quarrel with his wife was the cause of his wishing to be released from earthly trials. So says the State Journal.

A Eugene paper says: Sergeants Sheridan and Monahan, of Company C, 8th U. S Cavalry, arrested a deserter from their company, name Hungerford, about two miles below town. When captured he was at work on a threshing machine. Two other soldiers from the same command (Capt. Kelley's) deserted near this place last Saturday night. Their names are Capps alias William Carson and Curtis.

The following is from the Record of Monday: The trotting match for a purse of $100 came off as advertised at the Fair Grounds Saturday afternoon, resulting in favor of Huntington's roan mare. A friend who was present furnishes the following particulars. Entries were Huntington b. m., Starkey sp. h., and Welch bl. m. First heat, roan mare won by about thirty feet; bay mare second, spotted horse, third; black mare, fourth. Time, 3:28. Second heat, bay mare won by about twenty feet, spotted horse second, roan mare third; black mare fourth. Time, 3 24. Third heat, roan mare won the heat and race by a neck, bay mare second; spotted horse third; black mare drawn. Time, 3:22.

The Roseburg Ensign has the following account of a horrible accident which happened at Gardiner City on the 30th ult: A man named Wm. A. Hanson, formerly mate of the schooner Pacific, had just quit the schooner, and was at work on a steam saw mill, and while the engineer was adjusting some of the machinery, and while the engines were in slow motion, Hanson was up stairs among the saws carelessly looking about them, he got too near the gang saws, his clothes were caught in the gang saws which pulled him across the main saw, his right leg was cut off at the knee, and the bone shattered for six inches, one of the toes was cut off of the same foot. At the same time the gang of five saws running at right angles to the main saw, which cut the left ankle all to pieces, and cut three horrible gashes in the left thigh. And just above his left hip one of the gang saws cut him half in two, and tore his bowels out. In this condition he lived six hours. He was interred in the Umpqua Cemetery on the 31st of July, 1867. He was about twenty-four years old. His parent live in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

The railroad excitement up the valley is not so great but that the citizens have time and opportunity to devote to other exciting topics. At Eugene City they are talking quartz and finding it (near there) too. The Journal says: C H Moses, Esq., and Squire Wilbur, of this city, went out three weeks ago into the mountains for the purpose of hunting and prospecting. They returned last Saturday bringing in some fine specimens of auriferous quartz, taken from a ledge near the old quartz discovered on Blue river, and not more than fifty miles from this city. They opened a clearly defined ledge about half way down the mountain. Gold cannot be seen in most of the rock with the naked eye. The quartz is easily crushed, and contains gold in large quantities. They are confident that the specimens brought back for testing are no more than the average of some five or six hundred pounds of rock taken out. They crushed in a mortar what they brought with them on their riding horses. The average yield per pound was $1 13; to the ton, $2,260. They have taken up claims and intend to commence working the ledge as soon as possible. We seen the quartz and the gold taken out, and are convinced that they will make a pile out of their discovery.

COL. JONES HAS SECEDED FROM THE REVISIONARY TICKET.—The Alta of August 9th says:

The so-called Republicans are certainly a hardly used party. Their original candidate for Governor, made so because he was the "people's choice," has left them, and they are obliged to put up a man who was never claimed to be the choice of anybody outside of San Francisco; their nominee for Secretary of State washed his hands of the whole transaction, gave them a parting shot, and went out into the field for the regular ticket. And now we find that Jones, the Republican candidate for Controller, has left them likewise, and has addressed the Unionists of El Dorado county in behalf of the regular nominations, affirming his unqualified support of the Union State ticket. It appears that Jones explains himself as having accepted the position offered him on the "Republican" ticket, merely that he might be brought before the people and have a chance to clear up some facts connected with his military record, which he felt needed some explanation.

It will be recollected that he was accused of irregularities while in the volunteer service, and was, after trial, dismissed from the service, remaining thereafter, under a cloud. He subsequently sought a county nomination in El Dorado county, and secured a vote large enough to consider himself amply endorsed by his old neighbors. The appearance of his name on the Sorehead ticket was the signal for the republication of the order of the War Department dismissing him from the service, whereupon Jones, replied by a well-written defence, which induced many to believe, to quote from the Sacramento Union, that it was evident, "that Col. Jones' offenses were merely of a technical character, and that his course was that of a kind-hearted, high-minded, honorable officer, who, while serving his country faithfully, treated his fellow-soldiers as fellow-men, and failed to play the petty tyrant when the possession of epaulettes enabled him to do so." His vindication being complete, Colonel Jones has left the ticket to take care of itself, and the "Republicans" are sold once more.

AN ESTABLISHED REMEDY.—"BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" are widely known as an established remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and other troubles of the Throat and Lungs. Their good reputation and extensive use has brought out imitations, represented to be the same. OBTAIN only "Brown's Bronchial Troches."

AN EXCELLENT ARTICLE.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP is an excellent article for all diseases of children. It relieves the child from pain, regulates the stomach and bowels, and, by giving health to the child, comforts and rests the mother. During the process of teething its value is inestimable; cures wind colic and griping in the bowels. Hostetter, Smith & Dean, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

NEWS FOR THE LADIES.—Dry Goods, Fancy as well as Staple, Fine as well as Common, will shortly arrive and be for sale at extremely low figures at the Store of KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front street, who will receive, in addition to their already extensive stock, a new invoice of Dry Goods, which they will offer at prices to induce Ladies to purchase of them.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs S J Romsey.) Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

PIONEER WASHER.

JAMES BRUSIE,

AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and lasting, with proper care, for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It does its work by a reverse motion in forcing the water through the clothes.

It having a tight cover, the steam thus assists materially in cleansing the clothes, and also avoids the inhaling of steam from hot suds.

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to aid housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.

THE COUNTY RIGHTS, now unsold, will be sold at a bargain if applied for soon.

For Reference, enquire at the

Mansion House, and of	J. Wilson,
Southworth's Boarding House,	Mrs. S. F. Johnson.

Special Meeting of the Council.—In pursuance of the proclamation by the Mayor, the Common Council met last evening, His Honor, Mayor Chapman in the chair Messrs Fechheimer, Hallock, Porter, Ripley and Rosenheim were present. Messrs Besser, Burch, Mulkey and McCraken were not present

The Mayor asked the Council whether it was their pleasure to have the minutes read. This meeting was called in pursuance of the resolution adopted at the last meeting of the Council As directed by that resolution I called on Recorder Hoffman and informed him of the action of the Council, and he refused to comply with the demand

On motion, the reading of the minutes of the last meeting was deferred to the regular meeting

Mr. Hallock asked if he understood the Mayor to say that the Recorder refused to comply with the resolution adopted at the last meeting

The Mayor—Yes

Mr. Hallock—Will your Honor please put your communication in writing for the use of the Council?

After an interval of a few minutes, the Clerk read the following

MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR.

To the Honorable Common Coucil of the City of Portland—Gentlemen: I would beg leave to state that I called upon J. J Hoffman, City Recorder, and directed his attention to the resolution passed at your last meeting, at which time he stated that he refused to recognize the action of the Council in the premises.

J A CHAPMAN, Mayor

[Here followed a long and impressive silence, during which "I looked at him and he looked at me " "Not a sound was heard," "not a leaf stirred," etc Finally Mr. Hallock went up and conferred awhile with the Mayor. Then Mr. Hallock went back and spoke with Mr. Fechheimer. Then Mr. Hallock took his seat]

Mr. Fechheimer moved that the message of the Mayor be referred to a Select Committee of three, which prevailed without dissent.

The Mayor appointed as such Committee, Messrs Fechheimer, Ripley and Hallock.

[Another masterly silence of a moment.]

A member moved to adjourn; another seconded the motion. The question was put and carried without opposition.

So the special meeting of the Council passed into history.

A Mine of Paint.—Rev Mr. Kelly who lives about three miles southeast of this city, exhibited to us yesterday, several specimens of an earthy substance which he thinks may be used as the basis of red and brown paint The specimens are from the bank of a small creek where a stratum has been exposed by the cutting away of the earth by the action of the stream. It is not known how deep the stratum may be; but its height from the bed of the creek is about four feet. The substance is clearly of earthy formation and is susceptible of being easily reduced to powder, the grain being very fine and soft. To prove whether it may be successfully used as the base of paint, pieces of the earth have been submitted to several practical painters of this city for test. In one case, we hear that the result of the test was quite as satisfactory as in the case of most of the earthy bases in common use. Of the result of other trials we have not heard. An assayer of this city examined some of it, detecting the presence of only a small per cent. of iron which is usually the coloring quality of ochres Judging from such qualities as are apparent, we should say that the substance will be found valuable for purposes of staining and graining, if not for mixing with oils as the permanent base of paint. The supply of the earth is apparently inexhaustible.

The Railroad Terminus.—Since the interest in the railroad scheme received its late impetus from the Salem telegram to the papers, railroad has been a somewhat absorbing theme of conversation in all circles, and somehow it has affected a great many people's ideas about the value of their property. We know of one or two instances in which holders have advanced prices asked for property offered for sale, on the belief that the railroad will be located near. The chief points of discussion here are the questions, "where will the depot be located?" and "where will be the terminus?" When the news was received here, of the purchase of the iron and rolling stock for the first section, the telegraph forwarded the excitement to Puget Sound, by sending the same news there. A Seattle man who had just completed a hotel, all but the name, at once solved the question in his own mind, as to the terminus of the road. According to his view of the case, there was not so good a spot on the coast for the terminus as the exact spot of ground on which stood his hotel, and he accordingly dubbed his inn "The Terminus House." The Seattle man's head is entirely level—the railroad will never have a permanent terminus till it reaches Seattle, the nearest point where it can meet the shipping of the world, at all seasons of the year.

Trade at the Dalles.—The trade report of the Mountaineer of Saturday, contains the following cheering paragraph:

"We have again to report a steady improvement in all branches of trade. The jobbing business for the week closing has been particularly active We are informed that Bloch, Miller & Co, and French & Gilman have received several very heavy orders for goods for the Boise and Owyhee mines; and these added to the trade from mining districts nearer home will keep our jobbers busy for some time. In addition to the merchants in town, our streets have been lively by returning miners, who come down with well filled purses; their presence has had the effect to materially improve the retail trade, a branch of business which suffered greatly from the late depression."

Severely Injured.—Mr. Myers Southworth was yesterday morning driving a young horse to a sulkey, on North Front street. When near the Willamette Iron Works, he was in the act of turning around, the horse, either from fright or viciousness, gave a sudden plunge forward and commenced running. He went over a pile of lumber in the way, and then against the fence enclosing the gas reservoir. Mr. Southworth was thrown out and severely bruised about the face and shoulders and was taken up insensible. When, however, medical attendance was procured, his injuries, though severe, were found not to be of a serious nature. The sulkey was considerably broken.

Sold Out.—It will be seen by the advertisements of the parties that the firm of A. B. Elfelt & Co, has sold out its stock and trade to Messrs. L Goldsmith & Co., who will carry on the business at the old place on Front street. We learn that Messrs Elfelt & Co have disposed of their business here for the purpose of going into a larger business in San Francisco, as the successors of J Seligman & Co Mr. A B Elfelt will soon go to San Francisco to take charge of the house there, while Mr Goldsmith of the firm will make a trip to Europe to negotiate some commercial arrangements.

Match Game of Base Ball.—The Pioneer Club of this city, yesterday, received a challenge from the Occidental Club of Vancouver, to play the second game in the match between those two clubs, and at a meeting of the Pioneers last evening, the challenge was accepted. The game will be played at Vancouver, on the afternoon of Wednesday the 21st. In the first game between these clubs, played at Vancouver on the 20th of May, the Pioneers were the victors by seventeen runs.

Annexation in a New Shape.—The last number of the Vancouver Register has an article urging the addition of Northern Idaho to Washington Territory, copying into its columns some editorial remarks of a similar purport, from the Lewiston Journal. It has been the habit of people east of the mountains to clamor to be cut off from the section west of the Cascade mountains. Wonder how they will take this reverse proposition of the Journal and Register?

Races.—Two or three rather exciting races were run yesterday, on the track below town. The first was between Miller's dun mare and Davenport's horse (from the Dalles) three hundred yards, for a purse of $20; won by the mare. A race was then made between the Davenport horse and Fuller's mare Nelly, for $20 a side, five hundred yards, won by the Davenport horse by eight feet Considerable money changed hands among the outsiders.

Accident.—A man by the name of Dobbins from Tualatin Plains, met with a serious accident while crossing a bridge in the canyon, west of this place, by his team becoming frightened and unmanageable He was thrown from the wagon and dragged some distance His arm was broken about the middle of the fore-arm and he was considerable bruised otherwise. Drs Chapman & Watkins set the arm and dressed the wounds.

Recorder's Court.—In the Recorder's court yesterday morning, Wm. Adams and J R. Christy were charged with being disorderly and fighting in the Idaho saloon on Front street, Saturday evening. Having been in confinement two days, they were let off without further punishment.

Direct Importation.—Mr. D. Simon announces this morning that he has opened a complete stock of general merchandise in Moffitt's fire proof brick, on the corner of Front and Main streets Mr Simon has imported his stock direct from the East and can, therefore, offer as good bargains as can be found in the city

Willamette Freights.—Arrived by the steamer Senator, yesterday: 914 qr sks flour, 10 bales woolen goods, 3 cases merchandise, 1 bale do., and 6 pieces smut machine.

To Sail.—The schooner Crosby will sail to-morrow for Victoria, with a heavy cargo She has on board already, a considerable amount of flour

Adjourned.—The Circuit Court on Saturday evening, adjourned for the term.

Darman Bros have fine suits of clothing for 12½, 15, 16, 20 and 25 dollars

Wide Awakes.—Every member is expected on the grounds at 5 o'clock sharp Special meeting at 8 o'clock.

The Eclipse B B Club is requested to meet at their grounds at 5 o'clock P M.

The Rush for the Family Dye Colors of Howe & Stevens is as great as ever Once introduced to a family or neighborhood, and they spread like wildfire The truth is, they are so nice to have about the house that every prudent and sensible matron will have them. Howe & Stevens employ some one hundred hands to keep up to orders.—Sold by Smith & Davis

First National Bank of Idaho—Boise City, I. T —Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000, Paid up capital $100,000. B. M. DuRell, President C. W. Moore, Cashier Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

The Vancouver Register is responsible for the following

We state upon the authority of a county official of Walla Walla county, that one of the newly elected members of the Legislature from that county who had been a strong Democrat, lately attended a camp meeting of the United Brethren experienced religion, joined the church and became a Republican and a Good Templar, assigning for his change of politics that it was absolutely impossible for a man to be a good Christian and a Democrat at the same time Rather a good joke on our Democratic friends.

Perfectly Enraptured.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. Shanahan, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the delightful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs From the soft breathing flute tones to the thundering bass of the pipe organ, all was equally free and sweet And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world-wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments

"CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE."

J. H. UPTON & A. NOLTNER, Proprietors.

ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 31, 1867, A LARGE SIZE WEEKLY PAPER, with the above title, will be issued at SALEM, OREGON.

The CHRONICLE will be devoted to Politics, News, and the development of the varied resources of the State. In politics the CHRONICLE will be unflinchingly Democratic, supporting and advocating all those reforms in National and State polity, so urgently demanded at the present time by every consideration involving the weal of the American people. The necessity for a Democratic organ firmly planted at the Capital, will be at once apparent to every thinking Democrat in the State. Such a one we propose to make the CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE, and with the State thoroughly Democratic to-day, with all prospective changes in favor of that party, there is no valid reason why the enterprise shall not prove a complete success

While the CHRONICLE will devote ample space to the discussion of political topics, the News of the day, the Agricultural Mining, Mechanical and Manufacturing interests of the State at large will receive due attention. A twenty-eight column paper, 26x38 inches in size, will furnish ample space and enable us to present in each number an amount of reading matter equal to the importance of the interests involved We only ask at the hands of the people that legitimate patronage which shall enable us to present a sheet in every way creditable to ourselves and the State—one which none may have the least reason to be ashamed of.

All contracts for advertising and subscription existing with the late Democratic Review will be faithfully executed by the proprietor of the CHRONICLE.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fever. Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or

PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

A Gauntlet of Fire.

[From the Chambers' Journal.]

It is now several years since that I was in the service of the Hudson's Bay Company, and located at their trading station of Hemlock Bend, on the banks of the Great Snake river. A wild, desolate spot it was, surrounded by dreary pine forests and yet more dreary swamps; and, with its double cordon of tall stockade, and a long swivel-gun crowning its central warehouse, more resembling a military post than a commercial depot.

Most lonely was our life in that distant factory, with the fierce blasts from the great bay sweeping down upon us in almost polar cold and furious snow storms during more than half the year; while our brief summer was cheered by no more pleasant visitants than the rugged voyagers of the bateaux which brought our merchandise, and the grave Indian hunters who came to barter their winter's take of furs for our powder, cloth, and brazen ornaments.

My range of society, however, was somewhat greater, for, as assistant factor, it was my duty, during the summer months, to visit our different out-stations; and not only singular were the characters with which I thus made acquaintance, but wild and sometimes perilous the adventures I encountered.

On one occasion I remember being bound to [illegible]anday's Bluff, beyond Loon Lake, one of my most distant charges. In those thickly wooded regions, the rivers and creeks form the only highway; and, with the usual farewell cheer given and returned, my Indian crew and I, in our nor'-west canoe, started on our expedition. A pleasant mid-summer voyage it promised, leading along gentle rivers, bordered by young green foliage, across bright, breezy lakes, and through the windings of narrow creeks, fringed with countless blossoms. When night came, we drew our light boat to land, and, wrapped in our blankets, slept steadily beneath its shelter until daylight called us to resume our journey.

Two and a half days had thus been occupied, and the afternoon of the third saw us entering the right fork, Kaskongshadi, or broken water, a [illegible] noted even in that wild country for its rugged gorges of arrowy rapids, and its alternate broader stretches of rippling, sunny, pale-green water which tinted the hue of every fish within its depths, and of every rock and lichen along its borders.

But the ready philosophy of the Indians was [illegible] to every exigence as it appeared; the light [illegible] with which their ten easily wielded paddles sent our canoe skimming along the [illegible], gradually changing, as the adverse current quickened into a fierce, rapid movement, [illegible] against the wild, leaping, [illegible] torrent which surged down on us; or if the rush of the steep rolling defied the power of [illegible], the [illegible] rowers leaped out into the [illegible] and [illegible] themselves with ropes, took their canoe in tow, pressing on from rock to [illegible] along the shallower margin of the river, but still waist deep in the [illegible], raging, tumultuous [illegible] of waters which almost swept them from their feet. But with yells and whoops, as against a human enemy the [illegible] fellows battled on, [illegible] at last, breathless and well nigh exhausted they emerged from the watery ordeal, and with a [illegible] yell of triumph which quivered through the [illegible] again into their places [illegible] new rapids should [illegible] them to fresh exertion; [illegible] when a cataract compelled them to make a portage, when canoe and [illegible] were mounted on their shoulders, and [illegible] overland [illegible] the next smooth water.

At length but one more rapid [illegible] between us and Loon Lake and a murmur of pleasure broke from the Indians [illegible] saw the broad sun-[illegible] space beyond. But [illegible] was the worst [illegible] the route, [illegible] of surging waves [illegible] by a powerful sweep, as the waters of the [illegible] over into two forks of the Kaskong-[illegible] while to add to the difficulties of the [illegible], the water was too deep to admit of wading, and the banks on either side too abrupt for even [illegible] feet to scale.

The men, however had many times before [illegible] this rapid and they doubted not of doing [illegible], and dashing their paddles into the foaming flood, with every nerve strung to the utmost [illegible] strongly eagerly impetuously, they plied [illegible], almost burying their slight vessel in [illegible] sea of breakers which seethed in a wild [illegible] tumult around us and almost blinded [illegible] the clouds of spray which dashed full into [illegible]

[illegible] anxious arduous minutes, and the topmost [illegible] remained before us and every hand [illegible], every paddle a longer sweep, [illegible] last mighty effort. At last the steep ascent [illegible] and as the [illegible] the well known whoop of victory [illegible] through the woods. But a cry of blank [illegible] quickly followed, as the steersman's paddle, [illegible] by the pressure, snapped off above [illegible] while the unguided canoe, yielding to [illegible] torrent, branched [illegible] the water [illegible] and ere any one could [illegible] bar, swayed [illegible] round, and, passing the intervening [illegible] of land, shot like an arrow into the left [illegible] of the Kaskongshadi and began to leap [illegible] the [illegible] and steep cascades of [illegible] to that which we had so la-[illegible].

[illegible] by a new and [illegible] over us [illegible] into the wild [illegible] a red [illegible] flashed upon our eyes a great glare [illegible] while a [illegible] broke upon [illegible] and at once we [illegible] comprehended the [illegible]. [illegible] that one of those terrific conflagrations [illegible] by a spark from a hunter's rifle, an [illegible] Indian fire, or [illegible] other trivial [illegible] occasionally [illegible] the American [illegible] was raging in to our front. It was an appalling discovery, and instantly every paddle was [illegible] back to try and win our way back from those [illegible] precincts But our boat had received an [illegible] with whose first [illegible] power of ours [illegible], and despite our utmost efforts she still [illegible] madly on.

Fearful was the scene to which she brought us. Fire on either side as the fierce element wrapped the lofty trees in sheets of flame; fire above, as the overhanging branches joined together in a [illegible] arch [illegible] it seemed even fire below, as the boiling waves which raged around us caught the red reflection, and dashed it back in a thousand broken rays.

[illegible] momentarily overpowered, we were not [illegible], and again we strove to stem both [illegible] impetus but all in vain; faster and [illegible] the waves over the bristling rocks, [illegible] it became evident that all the last and steep-[illegible] of the neighboring fork were on this [illegible] stream united into one long and insurmountable river race.

Meanwhile on we sped, amid air which grew each moment hotter as we passed deeper into the burning region while the flames around us raged with a wilder fury and the voice of the destroyer took a more threatening tone. Yet it was a magnificent sight that dark primeval forest ablaze with one great [illegible] mass of fire; its mighty trees glowing [illegible] amid the fiery radiance, as the fiery streamers wrapped them round, its jets of fire leaping high in the air, now darkened by night, while the rush and roar of those tumultuous flames grew well nigh deafening; and louder still, the thunderous reverberations with which, at intervals, some forest giant crashed down to the ground sending up into the sky great clouds of [illegible]

Strange and gorgeous were the various hues in which the different trees yielded up their summer foliage and yet stranger, when this brief glory had passed was the aspect of their tall, giant forms [illegible] to flaming pinnacles or masses of glowing [illegible]. Every now and then, piercing shrieks which made us shiver, rose above the tumult of the flames, telling of wild animals overtaken in their flight, while scorched and terrified birds fell thickly around us, to die by an easier death [illegible] moment, too, our own fate appeared more imminent, as the hot furnace-like air made us faint and pant for breath, and our strength wither like grass beneath its blighting influence; while, as we passed, the overhanging trees swept their long, flaming boughs across our faces, or strewed the stream and us with burning brands; and worse than all, for as the keen eyed Red man could penetrate the ruddy haze, stretched the fiery gauntlet we were compelled to run.

Never shall I forget what we endured as, with wetted blanket casing both the lofty ends of our canoe, with similar coverings wrapped around ourselves—our slight but only shield—we swept along that fearful avenue, our breath more and more labored, our dazzled and fire-scorched eyes more dim. Hopeless, helpless and suffering, we sped on to certain death, which each prepared to meet as best he might; some with the proud stoicism of their race, others with the cross sign taught them by the earliest missionaries; while a pang of inexpressible anguish for the dear ones left desolate in that wild land, divided my own last thoughts. It was an interval of unutterable misery, passed amid a wild, roaring, leaping rush of flames, and a scarce less wildly leaping rush of waters.

At length the measure of their endurance was complete, and one by one the stricken Indians sank beneath their fiery trial; some, it seemed, happily unconscious of their dreadful doom, others mourning in their suffocating agony. As my own stronger organization slowly yielded to the deadly breath of the over-heated air, and a faint bewildering exhaustion crept over me, paralyzing every faculty, I closed my bleared and aching eyes, as I believed forever, with a murmured prayer that our fiery passage might be short as possible.

But when hope was gone, and life had almost passed, an over ruling Providence guided us to safety. Within an hour that narrow gorge widened into a lake-like reach, among whose placid waters our canoe at length found rest, while the cooler air fanned our brows, recalling our all but departed spirits. Thence in safety, and deeply thankful for our unhoped for escape, for two days we watched the progress of the forest conflagration; and on the third, when it had passed away, we bore our little bark across the devastated country, and remounting successfully the right fork of the Kaskongshadi, at length reached our destination. But neither time nor chances and changes of life in the wilds can banish the haunting memory of that most fearful night, when my Indians and I ran the gauntlet of fire.

HISTORY OF BEER.—History carries its discovery back to the time of the Egyptians, though probably the Chinese, to whom all new discoveries are old facts, drank centuries ago, as now, their liquid mead from bruised barley and wheat. Herodotus, writing four hundred years before the Christian era, says that the Egytians had a wine made from barley. Aristotle speaks of its intoxicating qualities. Theophrastus calls it the "wine of barley." Tacitus notices beer as common with the Germans in his era, and Pliny speaks of it as made by the Spaniards, who called it "celia," or "ceria," and the Gauls, who called it "corravirsia," all these titles being evidently derived from Ceres, the divinity of grain, as the present name beer may be derived from the Latin bibre. Since the Christian era, Nubia and Abyssinia, benighted as they were and are, claimed kindred with the European nations through a common taste for the nutbrown liquid. The Japanese has his rice beer, and the Northman and Dane reserved in their ideal heavens, spaces for reservoirs of their favorite beverage—beer.

THE OLD NORTH STATE.—According to Prof. Kerr, a North Carolina geologist, the Old North State has claims to a remarkable antiquity. He says:

As North America is the eldest born of the continents so the Black mountain is the eldest of its giant brotherhood, and was the first to emerge from the face of the unbroken sphere of waters when the command went forth, "Let dry land appear."

RHEUMATISM CURED!

PORTLAND, August 10th, 1867.

I HAVE SUFFERED A LONG TIME WITH RHEUmatic Pains, and until now have found nothing to relieve me To-day Mr J. G Rennick called at my store and assured me that he could cure me in a few minutes. I thought he was mistaken, and laughed at him, but found to my surprise that a few moments after the application of the SITKA LINIMENT, I was relieved of my pains, and I am now improving very fast. I now believe it will cure me in a few days For further information call at my store, No. 162 First street
F. WEGNER.

SPRAINED WRIST CURED.

PORTLAND, August 10, 1867.

I was at Mr. Wegner's store on Saturday, August 10th, and seeing the magic effect of J G RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, in his case, concluded to try it on my wrist which has been sprained for some time I found relief inside of FIVE MINUTES from its application, and it is now perfectly well. My wrist was so swelled I could not shut my fingers I believe it will cure any pain in a short time. I will give any further particulars to whoever calls on me

Tumor Removed!

PORTLAND, August 10th, 1867.

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gum and cheek. I had a large tumor forming on the gum which arose from a killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights. I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise, it removed the lump and eased the pain so that it is now as well as the other cheek My cheek was fearfully swollen. This was done in the presence of two witnesses.
I MITCHELL.

I was present and know the above to be true, and am willing to swear to it L. QUIVEY.

PORTLAND, August 12th, 1867.

For five years I have suffered with a pain or weakness in my back, which at times was dreadful. I often thought I could not bear such torment. But I got a bottle of RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, and with one rub it perfectly cured me I can recommend it to any lady suffering from pains in any way, for I am convinced it will at once remove them, DORS COHN,
Corner of Fourth and Taylor streets.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
